Student Entertainment Events Presents: Pablo Francisco

Student Entertainment Events and the Latino Student Union are pleased to announce a night of laughter with Pablo Francisco on Monday, March 10. The event begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Adele H. Stamp Student Union. Doors will open at 7 p.m. and Francisco will go on at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Hoff Ticket Office in the Stamp Student Union and will cost $6 with a UM ID and $15 for the general public. The winner of the student comedy competition, which took place on Feb. 28 will perform stand-up and open for Francisco.

Pablo Francisco, a Tucson, Ariz. native, is best known for his lively impressions, ranging from Arnold Schwarzenegger to the dramatic stars of Spanish soap operas on the Telemundo Cable Network. His ability to create animated scenes through crazy self-produced sound effects, in combination with his enthusiastic stage presence and appeals to family and relationships, give him a universal appeal.

Even as a kid, Francisco loved anything and everything about comedy. He and a friend competed to see who could tape the most comedy routines and eventually joined together as the "Blowout Boys" to enter and win a local comedy competition. This was Francisco's first professional break and his popularity grew exponentially from this point forward.

Currently residing in Los Angeles, Francisco is busy making a name for himself in top clubs around the country, not to mention on television. He has made multiple guest appearances on "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," as well as starred in his own personal "Comedy Central Presents" special that remains in the top 5 most requested on a consistent basis. In addition to these accomplishments, he has appeared in several television shows, such as Fox's "The Family Guy" and Showtime's "Full Frontal Comedy.” His nomination for Comedian of the Year by the American Comedy Awards is yet another validation of his talent.
